NEW VM SALES REPRESENTATIVE INTRODUCED AT DOW AGROSCIENCES Morton Joins Vegetation Management Team

INDIANAPOLIS — Jan. 21, 2009 — Debbie Morton has accepted the sales representative role for the vegetation management group within the U.S. specialties division of Dow AgroSciences. She will work with end-use customers and distributor representatives; assist with formulating vegetation management programs; and work with university cooperators.

Morton will provide field support in Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado. She earned a bachelor's degree in biological sciences from the University of Missouri-Rolla and a master's degree in agronomy/turf science from Purdue University. She is located in Overland, Kan., and can be reached at (913) 948-1690 or by e-mail at demorton@dow.com.

Morton replaces Jack Noble, who has retired after serving more than 30 years for Dow AgroSciences.
